

1st December is World AIDS Day

If you are one of the 42 million people around the world living with HIV, it's every other day too.

*These photographs show people working on HIV and AIDS projects all over the world

For more information

